LIONS CLUB MEETING SALVAGE GATHERED SATURDAY, JUNE 6

A TRIBUTE TO THE QUARTETTE

At their regular supper meeting last Thursday evening, the Strathmore Lions' Club had as their guest, Lion Deputy District Governor Phil Baker. Accompanying him were the renowned Lethbridge male quartette and their accompanist Mrs. Brown.

The Club members and local guests sat spellbound while the quartette entertained them in one of the finest musical programs ever to be heard by those present.

A varied program of classical, martial and comic numbers were rendered in a manner only attained by those who love to sing and know how to live every song while singing it.

These boys won highest honors at the Lions' International Convention of over one hundred contesting quartettes at New Orleans last year. Much credit is due to Mrs. Brown who started the boys team work and has guided and encouraged them in every way. She accompanies the boys wherever they go and without her they would not be complete.

Lion Baker spoke on the "Sugar Beet Industry" of Southern Alberta, and how the irrigation system means "Liquid Gold" to all who are fortunate enough to benefit by it. He told of the Lethbridge Lions Club making a splendid profit each year by growing sugar beets and how important sugar is, to aid in the all-out war effort. This information proved very interesting to all present.

The Strathmore Lions Club hope to be able to bring the Lethbridge quartette to Strathmore in a public concert in the near future. This concert should not be missed by anyone who enjoys music because it promises to be a real treat for all.

FUNERAL SERVICE FOR MISS MARY GIBSON

Impressive funeral services were held in St. Michael's Anglican Church Saturday afternoon for Miss Mary Gibson. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful.

Rev. Leslie Pearson, rector of St. Michael and All Angels' Church gave a brief but very sympathetic and inspiring message, and stressing the courage and cheerfulness with which the deceased had endured her extreme suffering.

Interment was made in the Chamberlain Family Plot, the pall bearers being W. A. Freeman, Garnet Lawson, Phil Sarsons, Charles Harvey, T. S. Hughes and T. E. Wright.

Interesting Anniversary Services

The invitation extended to Rev. A. H. Rowe to be guest preacher on the occasion of the 39th Anniversary of the United Church in Strathmore, was a very happy thought. Mr. Rowe is an interesting and forward-looking speaker and both sermons were enjoyed by all present.

In the evening the Church was filled almost to capacity.

The music by the choir, both in the anthem and trio comprising Mrs. Hughes, Mrs. Mercer and Miss Robertson was well rendered, reflecting credit on the leader Mrs. Hunt and the choir.

In the morning Rev. Rowe based his remarks on the Text, "As a man soweth—so shall he reap."

The evening sermon was a forceful plea for a World-wide Christian Dem-

CARSELAND

Mrs G. B. Field, Mrs Hanson and Mrs Barlow were hostesses at Mrs Field's home on Friday evening when 25 guests gathered to meet Miss Norma Cook, bride-elect of Mr Harry Moore, Mrs B. McKinnon on behalf of their many friends presented the honor guest with a lovely silver in-laid cream and sugar tray. The congratulations and best wishes of Carseland go to Harry and his bride and may their future be filled to overflowing with health and happiness. Mr and Mrs H. Moore will make their home in Vancouver.

The Christian Missionary Alliance Church at Carseland held its dedication on Sunday, May 24, Rev. Gordon A. Skitch of Calgary conducted the service, which was well attended by Carseland folks and visitors from Langdon. During the absence of resident pastor Gordon Diehl, the service May 31 was conducted by Geo. Hart.

The P. B. Club met Wednesday at the home of Mrs N. Mutch with a good attendance. It was decided to give $25 to the Red Cross Drive.

Jack Ethelbert Cole, son of Mr and Mrs Charles E. Cole, Carseland, Alta., has been enlisted in the Royal Canadian Air Force at the Calgary Recruiting Centre as a Wireless Operator ground. AC2 Cole will commence his Air Force training soon, at the completion of his course. Previous to enlistment Aircraftman Cole has been a salesman at Canadian Bakeries, Calgary.

SALVAGE

Metal, rubber, paper, rags, bottles, fat and bones; commonplace articles but read their value in war work. —Metal—to build tanks, planes, bombs, etc., etc., 2,000,000 tons of scrap metal must be found each year.

Rubber—salvaged rubber used in soldiers shoes, ground sheets, tires, belts, hose, tires, etc., etc.

Paper—reprocessed into tubes for shells, cases for shells, part of a fuse assembly or an airplane engine gasket cartons for food, or as paper board to line the walls of a military barracks. One ton of old newspapers makes 1800 lbs. of new paper. A paper a day from every home in Canada would make 5,000,000 cases for two pound tank shells.

Six old books is a mortar shell carrier. 12 old letters will make a rifle cart ridge box. One old envelope will make a cart ridge wad.

Fats and oils are needed for machine operations, printing inks, tanning leather, etc. From 20 lbs. of household fats in making soap, 2 lbs of glycerine are given off, which in turn goes into 4 lbs. of nitro glycerine, enough cordite for a 4.7 shell. So a U-boat sailor knows how fats can help.

Bones—Are used in glue and glycerine and exported, bringing in valuable foreign exchange. If every householder gave two ounces a week, it would mean 10 million pounds of bones a year for war purposes.

Glue is needed for aeroplanes, sand-paper and fertilizer. Light bulbs (metal ends) means copper, tin and tungsten.

Diesel engine uses 90 lbs copper for tubes. Corvettes takes 21 tons scrap iron and steel.

The committee and canvassers for the above fund are very grateful to all contributors who so generously came forward to put this worthy fund over the top. The amount realized is $1087 with a little more still coming. Signed, G. H. Patrick, Chairman

TOWN COUNCIL

The regular meeting of the Town Council was held on Tuesday evening June 2nd at which it was agreed to have a meeting of Firemen in the near future to discuss the control of fires. It was agreed that it was necessary to have the water tank brought to the scene of any fire which should occur and a payment of $5.00 made to the person who was first on the job.

The secretary was instructed to proceed to collect the Educational Tax of $4.00 for 1942 from all persons liable therefor.

One town lot was sold on the usual terms.

It was agreed that the Mayor, Town Solicitor and Secretary-Treasurer attend, and any members of the town Council who could get away attend the Convention of the Union of Alberta Municipalities to be held in the Council Chamber, Calgary on June 25th and 26th.

The destruction of Town Property was discussed and it was agreed that any person giving information leading to the conviction of the guilty party or parties would receive a reward of $100. (See Advt.)

Accounts to the extent of $420 were passed for payment.

ROCKYFORD

—By K. M. G.—

The recent splendid rains have made a different look on the country as it was so dry nothing was growing. The temperature went so low since the rain that it is feared the blossoms on fruit trees have suffered greatly.

Mr Stan Frayn is home for a few days sick leave after his arm was quite badly hurt at his work at the Ogden Shops. Mrs Frayn is also visiting her folks here.

Mr. Carl Johnston who has been ill for sometime was taken to the Drum-beller hospital on Monday morning.

All children from the schools in and around Rockyford who were able to be present on Monday, 1st of June, were vaccinated or inoculated, or both if necessary. Dr Giffen of Strathmore was in charge.

THE 'OUT-SIDE'

● Farm Machinery in 1943

In 1940 farm implement factories in Canada used 104,716 tons of iron and steel for the manufacture of farm machinery.

In 1943 only 15,000 tons will be available to make new machines, plus 20,000 tons for the production of repairs.

In 1940, Canadian implement production at wholesale value was $22,553,359. In 1943, the top limit of implement production will be $11,898,538 at wholesale prices. In 1940 sales in Alberta alone at wholesale value totalled $10,500,780.

This information will give farmers a pretty fair idea of the extent of restriction for the manufacture of agriculture implements.

● Expense allowances paid by the Canadian government to 272 "dollar-a-year" men vary from nothing at all to $35 a day.—Ex.

● Oil and Rubber

In a few years we may consider oil refineries as chemical establishments. They may become the great source of synthetic rubber, solvents, fertilizers, and raw materials for drugs.

● "Houses Fit For Heroes"

Sir Stafford Cripps, speaking of post war housing, said recently that "after this war we will really make houses fit for heroes," and that the old slogan that anything is all right for the poor has been killed.

● Wheat Varieties in Alberta—

A survey conducted by Alberta Pool Elevators last week as to the varieties of wheat seeded in this province this spring showed that Red Bobs is the most popular wheat, 45 per cent of the acreage having been sown to that variety. The old favourite, Marquis, came second with 38.9 per cent. The full list is as follows—

	Per Cent
Red Bobs	45.9
Marquis	38.9
Thatcher	9.2
Canus	2.4
Reward	1.4
Garnet	.9
Winter Wheat	.7
Other Varieties	.6

● An accelerated course in teacher training now is in full swing at the University of Alberta. The course was found necessary in order to relieve the threatened shortage of high school teachers when the fall term opens next fall. Thirty-three students began classes the day after convocation and will complete their full educational course by the end of October.

● John Pullishy, 17 year old son of a farmer in the Delphi district, about 60 miles northeast of Edmonton, was killed when horses he was driving ran away.

● Ronald W. McKinnon of Calgary and a party of 20 men will resume operations at the Imperial Oil, Ltd., well and refinery at Fort Norman left Edmonton aboard three planes. The party will remain at Fort Norman until about September carrying out this year's development and operation program.

● Calgary—Approximately 50 per cent of all Americans serving in Canada's armed forces have applied to date for transfer into the armed forces of their native land, according to Major General Guy V. Henry, of the United States Army, in charge of a special train arranging transfers for the men.

TRAILED BY GERMAN GESTAPO NOT PLEASANT EXPERIENCE

Lisbon After Dark—

On the eastward trip, the short stay in Lisbon and suburbs held some excitement, but it was pleasant. The Clipper arrived after dark. My first impression of the Tagus River was that it consisted of acres of mud flats. The tide must have been low that night and the bright searchlights on the plane and on the shore shone on the mud as the Clipper circled around in search of its anchorage. The trip to shore was over a long pier that ended in the Customs office. There the British Embassy people picked us up, supplied us with plenty of escudos (the Portuguese money) and gave the taxi driver directions where to take us.

There followed a wild taxi ride through the narrow streets of Lisbon and out to Estoril. It was far more exciting and undoubtedly more dangerous than the Clipper trip across the broad Atlantic but we arrived breathless at the Estoril Palacia, the finest hotel in Portugal. (It is this hotel you see in some of the movies). There was a midnight dinner in the magnificent dining room, along with the crew of the Clipper, then a few hours sleep, and away again in the early morning darkness to Cintra, the airport that is used by British, Dutch German and Italian planes. And so to Seven Days in Portugal—

On the return trip, I spent seven days in Lisbon, which was about five too many. It was mid-October when autumn storms were interfering with the Clipper schedules. At first, it seemed, I might have to wait ten days for a place on a Clipper; then it was more indefinite. It might be three weeks. As it has since turned out, it might be never. A prominent Canadian who returned a few weeks later had to go by way of Africa, Brazil and Trinidad to get out of Lisbon. The city is full of people trying to get out. For some of them, it is a matter of life and death. They must leave before the Germans get them. A place on the Clipper was not to be measured in mere dollars then (though it cost over $500, westbound). So I stayed in Lisbon with seven other Canadians and as the days passed slowly, our plight became so desperate that we returned at last on a refugee ship, "part of a cargo of cork," as Bishop Renison puts it.

As I have said, Lisbon is beautiful from the air. So is the rest of Portugal that I had seen from the plane. From the ground, parts of the capital city are beautiful and everything is interesting. But under its picturesque exterior, there lurk dangers, even in peace time. Now the whole city is full of danger and intrigue.

For the first time, the question of money began to bother us, when we learned we might be in Lisbon indefinitely. We could bring only $40 each in American money out of England under the strict wartime rules. Out of that, we had to pay our fares home from New York. Other expenses began to come up. We held a conference and pooled our resources at last, finding that we had just enough to stay one week at our hotel in Lisbon. We knew nothing of the language. For two days, we lived like paupers, hoarding every escudo, till the British Embassy came to our aid and guaranteed our hotel bill.

Headquarters of the Gestapo—

We stayed at the Hotel Victoria in Lisbon, not at the expensive Palacia. It had been recommended to me by an American foreign correspondent in London. "It's new and clean," he said, "so long as you don't mind staying in the same hotel as the head of the German Gestapo in Portugal."

I laughed that off. In London, that sounded like an added adventure. So on my recommendation we stayed at the Victoria. It was new, and clean, and cheap, and the meals were good. And we saw the head of the Gestapo, not just once, but too often. His men kept a close watch on the eight Canadians. It gets on your nerves in a few days.

The Avenida da Liberdade is the main street of Lisbon. The name, as you may guess, means "Avenue of Liberty." It stretches north and south up a broad valley between Lisbon's ten hills. The avenue is reputed to be one of the most beautiful in all the world. I don't doubt it. It is wide. Down each side is a broad roadway. In the centre, is a four lane highway. In between the outer strips and the centre, are gardens with palm trees and edible chestnuts and benches to sit on under the palms and on the grass. Here and there are sidewalk cafes, where everything can be had to drink from ice cream sodas and strong coffee to much stronger things. The roadway circles around many monuments and fountains with goldfish swimming in the waters. And all the sidewalks are of mosaic—little pieces of colored marble laboriously laid by hand into patterns. Not only are there scrolls and flowers, but the history of Portugal is written there for those who can read the language.

Up and down the Avenida, there is a steady stream of traffic. On the roadways at the side, old-fashioned street cars with open sides pass every few seconds. I never saw so many street cars on one street anywhere. The automobiles are mostly tiny cars and one could ride half a mile in a taxi for six American cents. Most of the people are on foot, many of them with bare feet.

There is poverty everywhere in Portugal and it intrudes even on to the beautiful Avenida. Hundreds of women pass in an hour, with baskets on their heads containing silvery fish or grapes or flowers. Men carry cases of wine or heavier loads. Many of them have little fancy wicker baskets with a lid and handle. I was curious about them. One day I followed an old lady. She stopped occasionally to pick things off the street. At last she sat on a bench and I sat down beside her.

SCOUT NOTES

A BANK HEAD'S TRIBUTE TO SCOUTING

"Short of being in the fighting services, there is no finer work a man can do for his country at this time than help to train its youth in clear and honest thinking," Jackson Doida, addressing a Scout gathering at Montreal High School.

WHO WERE BEST PREPARED FOR THESE DAYS?

Montreal Herald— Suppose you were asked to name that section of the population in private rank which is best prepared mentally and morally for the duties of citizenship in these days of trial, what would be your answer? For ourselves, we would single out the Boy Scouts, past and present.

SALUTING

A considerable number of articles have appeared lately in newspapers and other periodicals on the subject of saluting. Few have ever taken note of the historical origin of the practice, which puts it on a very different level from the manner in which it is usually regarded.

In the Middle Ages, Knights, Barons etc., dressed in chilly looking suits of tin plate, on meeting each other (if they were not intent on adding to the string of notches cut on their lances) had a standard form of recognition. They would raise the visor which protected the face with the thumb of the right hand, turning the palm to the front. This enabled them to see the face for recognition purposes, and the open palm was proof that there was no missile in the hand which could be thrown.

Thus the origin of saluting is one of complete friendliness.

The origin of the practice of turning the eyes toward the person saluted; i.e., eyes right and eyes left, comes from the mediaeval recognition of fraternity between fighting men. Whilst the ordinary peasant, villein, or serf was compelled to pass any Knight, or other sheet metal suited gentleman, with his eyes to the ground, as a sign of servility, the rank and file man of arms had the right to look the Knight straight in the eyes as a form of recognition that both were fighting men.

Thus the salute is a signal of recognition between one Service man and another, and is not so much an im-

AIR FORCE NOTES

The Royal Canadian Air Force Recruiting Centre No. 2 at Calgary has received instructions from Airforce Headquarters to seek men highly skilled in certain mechanical vocations who are urgently needed immediately.

Men qualified to enlist in the airforce trade of Fitter Diesel will be chosen from those thoroughly familiar with the maintenance of stationary Diesel units. Those now in charge of stationary AC Diesel plants of at least two units with a capacity of 500 H. P. or better are most acceptable and are asked to get in touch with the Calgary Recruiting Centre as soon as possible.

Pumpmen with a knowledge of gas and electric motors and pumps of all types are also sought at the present time.

Firemen for stationary plants in the R.C.A.F. Works and Buildings branch capable of assuming first class rating are still needed. These are stationary engineers who understand the principles of combustion, air requirements, rate of feed, draught regulations, and who possess a knowledge of automatic stokers, controls and functions. It is required that they have at least 12 months experience on these various heating units before applying for this trade.

As formerly, the search for members of the R. C. A. F. aircrews continues apace. More and more ob-position as a right, possessed only by serving men.

servers, Pilots, Wireless Operators (Air Gunner) must be secured to keep the Joint Empire Air Training Plan turning out the fighting men needed to keep up the terrific offensive which is already well under way. Production of planes in Great Britain, United States and Canada is reaching proportions which call for a steady flow of aircrews to man them, far greater than anything up to now. It is much easier to become a member of an R. C. A. F. aircrew

SACRIFICE

The fact is becoming recognized that the front line of battle does not run through the factories. The fighting forces are making a sacrifice that is far beyond the sacrifice that the factory workers are making. The word Sacrifice is too sacred to be used except for those in the fields of death and destruction. The hope is spreading that those who are fighting in the Air, on land and on the Seas, should have a very special provision made for themselves and for their dependents, when the War is over. At least three Committees in Canada are working on this problem and re-establishment, rehabilitation, Land Settlement, Annuity, Pension, Insurance, security and other schemes are being carefully discussed and planned to compensate these brave men, as far as material rewards can, for their contributions.

— F. W. Gershaw

Somebody has estimated there are 9,000,000 crows in the Canadian west to start the spring.

Sport Fishing from Coast to Coast

A TOPSY-TURVY world seems right side up again when viewed by an angler from the bank of a fast-flowing Canadian stream or from the prow of a canoe on a tranquil Canadian lake. Nor does any form of recreation pay richer dividends in health at a time when physical fitness plays so vital a role in war work. Canadians are particularly fortunate in the variety of fishing waters at their disposal and wide choice of species they contain. These range from giant Atlantic tuna and the west coast's fighting Tyee salmon to the scrappy "mudsnags" pickered, pike, bass, salmon, trout and other fresh water favorites inhabiting Canada's many inland lakes and streams.

The Canadian fishing picture is further enhanced by ideal rail and hotel services of the Canadian Pacific Railway, whose lines take the angler direct to such renowned fishing centres as French River, Lake of the Woods, and Western Ontario's rugged Lake Superior country, where muskies top the fifty-pound mark. Guides, bait, and tackle are available at larger resorts. Other favored fishing zones include Quebec's Laurentians, Gatinou district, Eastern Townships, Lake Temiskaming and Muskoka Lakes, while splendid salmon and trout catches are chalked up annually in the rivers and lakes of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. West of the prairie provinces, whose northern areas pay rich dividends to the angler, the fishing picture acquires fresh glances, particularly around Banff and Lake Louise, Alta., where the scrappiest species of Rocky Mountain trout are found.

LONG LIVE THE KING

MONDAY, JUNE 8th will be observed throughout Canada as a day commemorating King George's Birthday which really falls on Dec. 14th.

While the Royal Bank will close all other places of business and the schools will carry on with their regular work. The heartfelt prayer of the people of Canada will be that His Majesty will be spared as our King for many years to come, and that he with his subjects, will soon look upon a world freed of the horrors of war.

OUR CHINESE ALLY

THE aggression that was to threaten the world struck first at China. No nation has felt more the cruelties to which aggressors will descend, nor has withstood their assaults half as long as have the Chinese. They, like the British, have known what it is to stand without effectual allies against superior military force. They kept their faith in democracy when democracies seemer to be losing faith in themselves.

The Chinese have shown such dogged hopefulness, such patience in protracted trial, such calmness in crisis that their allies now should not have to be accompanied by any proofs of urgency.

WINGS OVER GERMANY

GRATIFICATION, wonder, quiet satisfaction, and pride were all intermingled as we read of the splendid achievement of the R. A. F. and R. C. A. F. over the continent during the past few days.

The victories achieved by the "Birds with Wings" is to the allies a source of encouragement, strength giving hope and increased endeavor to speed the day of ultimate victory.

FORWARD LOOKING ENTERPRISE

THE Junior Calf Club Contest and Sale held annually in an agricultural community is one of practical and forward looking benefit.

It is a very hopeful sign for the continued improvement of Alberta stock that so many of the youth ranging in age from 17 to 22 are interested in this line of endeavor.

When it is so constantly being stated that wheat acreage must be reduced and the demand for stock is continually increasing it augurs well for the future, particularly so when it is being predicted that after the war agricultural pursuits in Canada are going to increase very largely.

THE PIG THAT WENT TO MARKET

• Canadian bacon and foodstuffs of every conceivable kind are being shipped in tremendous quantities from Canadian farms to beleaguered Britain. Food, no less than fighting men and machines, is essential to final victory. Food production is war work of the first importance and Canada's army of farmers is doing its job well.

NIGHT FLIGHT

Harken, do you hear a rolling thunder in the sky?
 Down the starlit roads of night the planes are passing by,
 Manned by eager laughing lads, clear-eyed, and daring fate;
 Oft their reckless challenge leads them e'en to heaven's gate,
 Soaring like the singing lark, up, up into the blue,
 Dropping like a meteor, but landing straight and true,
 Whence has come their wisdom keen and whence their zeal to fight—
 Only fledglings yesterday, their wings grown overnight?
 Did they sense that only youth had nerve and will to do
 A task that takes such courage, such skill to see it through?
 They rallied to their country's need!
 O Lord of earth and sky,
 Guard clear the roads of heaven when our lads are flying by.

F. W. Gershaw Writes From Ottawa

The provinces of Canada have given up the Income and Corporation Tax fields to the Dominion. In return for this each province was given either the amount each year of the tax collected in 1940 or an amount that will service the debts of the province less the amount collected in Succession duties. Alberta chose to accept each year the amount received in 1940 for Income and Corporation Tax. This arrangement will last for the duration of the war and for one year after that date if it is not terminated before by agreement. The province of Alberta always secured a good income from the gasoline tax. Now, on account of the restrictions on the use of gasoline this revenue will be greatly reduced. The Dominion will make up this loss by a special grant each year. The province will, however, suffer some loss of revenue because, for one thing, some people will not take out car or drivers' licenses.

The Dominion will pay the provinces yearly about $5 1/2 million dollars. However, the Dominion will collect in Income Tax, National Defence Tax and Excess Profit Tax $47 million more this year than last year. The rates run from 20 per cent to 92 p. c. of the total income and will be higher this coming year, Outlook Changing—

A storm seems to be gathering over the question of conscription for overseas service and there may be great changes in the near future in the political life of Canada.

War Needs Replace Industrial Production—

The winning of the war is the great endeavor at the present time. Industries have stopped the production of civilian goods like automobiles and are turning out 2 ships, 12 planes and tremendous quantities of War Material every week. There are 300,000 Canadian soldiers as well as many airmen and sailors on distant shores and on the seven seas. Canadian tanks, guns and ammunition can be found in every field of battle in the world. Agriculture is turning from the production of wheat to the production of much needed butter, cheese, bacon and beef.

With all this, much thought is being given to post-war re-establishment and it is the firm determination of the Canadian people that, as far as possible, no one will lose by going to the defence of the democracy, no one will gain by staying at home and there will be no war profits.

Mr. Halsey, Minister of Finance, said "At no time has money been in the drivers seat as far as Canada's war effort is concerned. Repeatedly in public and in private I have told my colleagues to go ahead and plan our war program on the basis of maximum effort which Canada can physically accomplish and that I would see somehow or other that money for the utmost contribution would be supplied."

Production Big Factor—

Production is recognized by all as one great factor in winning the war and production will be at the maximum only if we have healthy active people at work. To maintain the war effort in the strenuous days that are ahead, better nutrition of the Canadian people is an important factor.

In Britain the sight of a banana or a lemon is only a memory. Meat and butter rations for a week can be eaten at one meal.

Food Rations—

The submarine menace reaches 1,000 miles farther out than it did in the last war. Cargo space is limited and plans are made to fit into that limited space the special foods that will protect, nourish and provide energy for the human body. These supplies are then distributed where they will do the most good.

The people are pleased with the system because many remember the tiresome waiting and inequality of the long queues of the last war where the rich and the strong got the food and the poor and the patient were told "no more today."

Ration books are supplied for equality of distribution and to prevent anyone from going altogether without.

One million daily hot meals will be distributed this year to school children and the Government pays 90 per cent of the cost.

Coal miners exposed to dampness & cold get extra supplies of heat producing Canadian and American bacon.

Dock workers who do strenuous work for long hours get extra rations of cheese.

Fruit juices, milk, eggs, and other protective foods are directed particularly to children and expectant mothers.

The people of Britain are healthier because of the rationing.

1942-43 Permit Books

Commencing the first week in June the Canadian Wheat Board will be providing elevator agents with supplies of the 1942-43 permit books. In this connection elevator companies have been advised by the Board as follows—

"Will you please ask your agents to advise their customers as they come in contact with them that for the present we do not want 1941 used permit books returned to this office.

"Producers should keep possession of these and should take their 1941 permit books, along with any correspondence they have had from the Canadian Wheat Board in connection with land duplication or wrong land description, to their elevator agents when they are applying for their 1942 permit books. This will assist in getting proper land description on the 1942 permit books and will assist the elevator agent by giving him information which he needs in making up his Form "E" covering 1942 permits issued.

"Afterwards the producer must keep possession of his used 1941 permit book, take proper care of it so it may be forwarded to this office when a request for it is made."

Then there are those who think that perhaps the cheapest alarm clocks are the best. There is always a chance that they will fail to ring.

Director, Agricultural Department
 North-West Line Elevators Association

Our Laboratory has made duplicate germination tests and sent out reports on 9,075 seed samples of cereals and flax during the past winter. This shows clearly that services we offer are in demand among farmers and are appreciated by them. Grain buyers are pleased to be in a position to assist their patrons in this way.

An equally, if not more, important matter follows—
 Why have we in the prairie provinces fallen so far short of our flax acreage goal? Of course, there are several reasons. Some land is unsuitable, grasshoppers are a threat in some districts and it is not a particularly nice crop to handle.
 However, one of the chief reasons for fighting shy of flax is the prevalence of weeds.

Every farmer should know the names and habits of all weeds on or near his land. Perhaps this sounds like free advice which is worth only what it costs! Not so; it is a plain statement of fact. Any farmer who cannot recognize all important weeds may be sheltering some very dangerous ones without knowing it.

In order to have weeds accurately identified without cost, it is only necessary to deliver specimens (complete with roots and flowers—if possible) to any grain buyer of the elevator companies associated with this Department. Grain buyers will forward them to our office, and we will report promptly.

We feel inclined to apologize for dealing with a subject so unhappy;
 but the weed problem gets worse year by year, and we are ready and willing to help.

Our 72-page bulletin "An Illustrated Guide to Prairie Weeds" is available to farmers free. Commit your local grain buyer or write to us for a copy.

NO RIDES ON TRUCKS

Attention of all truck owners and drivers is called by Mr. Walter S. Campbell, Regional Representative of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board to the new regulations, forbidding truck drivers to carry passengers, unless in possession of a permit to do so. This applies even to employees of the truck owner, members of his family, or persons carried free.

Exception only is made when livestock is being carried, when owners of the livestock may be carried in the cab.

Persons requiring permits must apply to the Regional Director of Transport, Williamson Building, Edmonton, giving name of the owner, make, model, type, serial number and license number of the truck and full particulars of what the permit is required to cover.

 WRITES FROM OTTAWA

No longer is it possible for even the rich to overeat and dig their graves with their teeth because they are receiving more nearly the required amounts of starches and fats for energy, proteins to build new and replace old body tissue, minerals to give good bones and sound teeth and Vitamins to regulate the use of the above foods. Dr James recently visited an area in the East end of London, Bethnal Green. This is a slum area that has continually needed assistance as a part of War Service. Every child in school was daily served with a hot meal of protective foods. He was told that these children at the age of 13 are 1 3/4 inches taller and 8 lbs. heavier on the average than their predecessors were at the same age in 1937 and 1938. This suburb has been seriously hit by enemy action, children have gone to the shelters night after night for six months.

This illustrates what can be done by nutritional care.

Great credit is due to the officers of the department of Pensions and National Health for the careful study that is being made and although the dietary surveys are still in the experimental stage and difficulties in estimations have been encountered yet the results clearly show that in the low income brackets there are many whose diets are so far below the standard line as to threaten health, efficiency and resistance to disease.

The main dietary deficiencies as shown by the Canadian surveys are in Vitamins, B, C, Calcium, Iron and Vitamin A, in that order.

Canadian diets could be improved by adequate use of whole grain cereals, citrus fruits, cheese, milk, green vegetables, liver, dark molasses, tomatoes. These foods will supply the youth preserving vitamin.

Vitamin B—the deficiency of which means; decreased growth, Fatigue, Neuritis, Mental Depression, is found largely in Whole grain cereals, Milk, Liver, Eggs and legumes.

Vitamin C— deficiency means; Poor formation of teeth and bones, and scurvy. is found largely in oranges, grapefruit, lemons, tomatoes and potatoes, especially in skins.

Calcium— Milk, Buttermilk, Evaporated, dried and skimmed; Cheese Iron— Meats, liver and dark molasses.

Vitamin A— deficiency causes— decreased growth, eye weakness,— is found in green vegetables, apricots, carrots, spinach, Fish liver oils and butter.

Do these things and there will be joy throughout the land; the people will rejoice. It is a step we can take. It is a measure within our grasp that will in some measure secure that elusive New Order.

The future is unpredictable. Agriculture production can be regulated to meet the new demand for special products. Foreign markets are needed but they are still in the uncertain shadowy land of doubt and conjecture.

If, by education and public assistance, a satisfactory standard of Nutrition could be obtained the Western World, including the Empire and U. S. A. could consume all the products of our agricultural output.

"Van Nestleweight talks a great deal about his family tree."

"Yes, a family tree is much like other trees; the smallest twigs do the most rustling."

But this is a game that the reader can play at, too;

Because of a patriotic consumer—
Because of a motorist who saved tires and gas—

Because of a man who refused to pass rumors along—
These stories will unfold to anyone who uses his imagination. The main point is that if all—except one—do their part, the war may be lost. But if that one does his part it will be won. If he does more than his part, it may be won sooner than any of us expect. One man, one woman, or perhaps even one child may be the key to it all. That man, that woman, that child is—you.

In the human body the centre of gravity is slightly to the right.

NIGHTINGALE

By M. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hansen of Red Deer were week end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Art Kimmitt.

Word has come to Nightingale of the recent marriage of George Chappel who is in His Majesty's Service overseas. His many friends from here send him congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. McDonald and children of Grainger were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Kenney.

Mrs. Larson entertained the W. I. at her home last Friday. Penny stretchers were given as the roll call. Plans for the dance on June 5th were completed.

Red Cross work was distributed. Mrs. Albert Mercer read a paper covering legislation on our new restrictions.

These items were interesting and instructive. Mrs. Chas. Kimmitt reported the purchase of $20 worth of War Certificates for this Institute. A social hour was enjoyed while a delicious tea was served. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Albert Mercer June 11th.

The Valley Garden Young People enjoyed another pleasant social evening last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Trimble and children spent the week end with relatives near Drumheller.

The younger generation are busy these Sundays with their softball games and practices.
